

14 Days, 14 Nights
1 day orientation, 10 days riding & 3 rest days
Distance: ~1,900 km / 1,180 miles

Embark on the ultimate loop of northern Luzon. Our 14 day, 2,000km bike tour visits Baler, the birthplace of surfing in the Philippines, before winding our way through the Sierra Madre to the northern tip of Luzon. Heading back south we visit the historic city of Vigan before heading back into the mountains to Sagada and Baguio. From there we head back to sea level and call at the Hundred Islands National Park, before heading back to Manila via the volcanic landscape of Zambales.

Snapshot

From the scenic Taal volcano, we travel northeast to Baler, the capital of Aurora Province and birthplace of surfing in the Philippines. On through the Sierra Madre Mountain range, home to the Aeta people, one of the oldest indigenous groups and onwards north to Aparri at the very top of the Philippines.

We now head west to visit Pagudpud, often referred to as the “Boracay of the North”, famous for its white sand beaches, crystal-clear waters, lush mountains, and stunning coastal scenery.

Now it’s time to start our long journey south. First stopping at the 2 UNESCO World Heritage Sites of Paoay Church and the historic town of Vigan.

Then back into the mountains to visit Sagada, where we will have a rest day to allow you to explore the Banaue Rice Terraces another UNESCO World Heritage Site, or visit Apo Whang-Od, the country’s most renowned traditional tattoo artist, born in 1917 and still practicing into her 100s, or the world famous Hanging Coffins, or any other local attractions and activities.

Continuing on to Baguio, the Summer Capital of the Philippines, so called because of its cool climate, pine-covered hills, vibrant arts scene and rich colonial history.

Now back to sea level we visit the majestic Hundred Islands National Park (actually 123 islands, 124 at low tide) where we will enjoy a full day exploring the islands by boat. We continue south through the province of Zambales, over volcanic lahars and on to Manila for a few well-earned cold beers at the famous Handlebar Bar & Grill
